Another attack by a Chinese retailer on our brand and our brand layout

Already in the past, the same Chinese people have tried several times to attack our globally established products in China in a completely unserious way via various channels. In the current case, this is now the company InnoAware with offices in Shanghai and Peking.

Also, in this renewed case, we will defend ourselves with all legal means against this kind of copying.

Our company was founded in 1815 and has been developing and producing adhesives since then. Among our customers are well-known large industrial companies as well as trade and craft.

In China, we have been working with „the only Chinese partner, the company Cofinetree“ since 2005. A deliberate attempt is made to create the impression among interested parties and customers for our products that we distribute our products through several market channels. This is not true.

You can get the original Weiss products exclusively in China only through the company Cofinetree.

In our corporate culture, it is an obligation for us to work with our customers on a fair and trustful basis.
